HONORING TOMORROW'S COMMUNICATION LEADERS

THE TWO BEST DAYS for our faculty are the day that new students come into the Department - bright with expectation and a little uncertain; and the day that they graduate - self-assured, accomplished young adults, ready to take on the practical and moral demands of a professional in the field of communication. We can only imagine that your pride in your graduate's accomplishments far outweighs ours.

As our former students enter a new and exciting phase in life, we anticipate hearing more about their accomplishments in the diverse professions where NC State Communication graduates make their mark.

Your Graduate has made their virtual mark on the campus of NC State. At this time we ask that you consider expressing your pride in your graduate with a physical mark, by considering a donation to the Department of Communication. All donations will directly benefit the Communication Department and our students. May I suggest that you consider making a gift to the Communication Department Enhancement Fund. Enhancement Fund gifts are unrestricted gifts that allow us to meet many departmental needs where state funding does not exist, or can't be used. Unrestricted gifts have allowed us to send undergraduate and graduate students to academic conferences where they present their research, to host student events, and to bring nationally known scholars to NC State to enrich our students’ educational experience.

Scholarship donations ensure the longevity of these programs for future generations. Donations can be made in your student’s name to our existing department undergraduate scholarships, or you may consider starting a new scholarship in your student's name. For more information on donations please go to: https://ccfn.ncsu.edu/advancement-services/giving/HS/

From the Faculty and Staff of the Department of Communication, to the family and friends of the Class of 2013, Congratulations on the graduation of your loved one from The Department of Communication at NC State University.
